

QUESTIONS

How do they express their creativity around this topic and their monsters?

How do we transform our fears and monsters into positive affirmations?

Which reading of the book did you like?

What were the elements of each you liked the most? What were the least?

What fears do your monster(s) represent?

How would your monster respond to the book?

Were there any parts of the book that reminded you about your monster, or is your monster from somewhere else?

Can you write a play for your monster to play a part in?

Can you write a comic featuring your monster?